Flaim Farms, Inc. Cumberland County Vineland, NJ

Farm History

Flaim Farms began in 1934. Today the farm is run by two brothers, Kevin and Bob Flaim, who continue the farming tradition.

Flaim Farms, Inc.

Flaim Farms produces romaine, kohlrabi, spinach, mustard greens, collard greens, swiss chard-green, red, rainbow kale, turnips, napa cabbage, squash, eggplant, peppers, escarole, endive and scallions. One of their specialties is romaine lettuce. To support the farm, look for the “Panther” brand romaine lettuce when it’s in season. The brothers also grow “tomatillos” at the request of a local restaurant, Tortilla Press. Flaim Farms also has its own farm stand. Straight communication and consistent quality are two attributes that customers can expect from Flaim Farms.

Why Buy Jersey Fresh?

Flaim Farms believes that New Jersey must advertise the produce that is in season. This will give consumers the opportunity to experience produce that is “same day fresh.”
